Dr. Subimal Roy Award for Best Published Paper in Neuropathology

This award is instituted by The Neuropathology Society of India (NPSI) in the name of Late Prof. Subimal Roy published research work in the field of Neuropathology.

The contest for this prize is open to all NPSI members fulfilling the following criteria:

- The contest is open to those below 45 years of age as on 28th February 2023 (age proof to be provided).
- The research work submitted should have been carried out in India.
- The above research work should have been published in the preceding two years (as on 28th February 2023).
- It should not have received any other award.
- The contestant should be First Author for the publication and member of NPSI.

The applicant should submit the following in support of his/her candidature:

1. Biodata.
2. Cover letter indicating the NPSI Membership number.
3. Certificate from all co-authors attesting and supporting the candidature of the principal author and certifying that this research work has been carried out in India and has not received any other award.
4. In case the applicant is a postgraduate or senior resident, there should be a letter from Head of the Department/Dean stating that the applicant is eligible for the award.
5. PDF format of the published paper to the Honorary Secretary NPSI (geetachacko@gmail.com) and CC to (npsicon2023@gmail.com).

Selection procedure

- The publication will be judged by a panel of three judges appointed by the President / Honorary Secretary, NPSI.
- The award may be shared by more than one paper if so adjudged or no prize may be given if no entry is found suitable that year.
- The winner of the award will be required to give a brief presentation of his/her work in the annual conference of NPSI.
- The prize carries a certificate and cash prize that will be distributed during the Valedictory function of Annual conference of NPSI.

- The application complete in all respects must reach the Honorary Secretary on or before 31stJanuary 2023.